

The question of the day: When will we be reopening?

Many of you have asked when we are reopening. We are working through the process of the necessary guidelines and mandates in order to make worship as safe as possible for everyone. We have many things to do to get ready and when we come back, worship will be different from when we last met together in March. Please be patient with us as we explore not only the State mandates but also the guidelines of our denomination. Thank you for understanding that we are trying to accommodate these new guidelines. Please continue to keep the staff and committees in your prayers as we try to prepare for all of these guidelines.

We are tentatively looking at reopening in mid-July if things continue to progress the way they have been. When we have a definite date, we will be sending out a mass email and snail mail letter explaining our new guidelines.

We miss all of you and have been praying for you and your families.

If you have a High School or College graduate, (Aug 2019 – Aug 2020), please let the office know. We would like to honor them. (So far we have: Damean Bowen & Brenna Watson (high school) , and Christopher Cockram (college))
